Membership conditions

Membership eligibility

Membership is open to associations and individual companies having legal personality. All PET stakeholders are therefore welcome and eligible for membership. These include all individual company members who are involved in the following activities:

- The manufacture of PTA or ancillary chemicals used to make PET
- The manufacture of PET
- The commercial manufacturing and sale of PET articles from virgin and recycled PET
- The supply of ancillary chemicals used in the manufacture of PET Articles
- The commercial manufacture and sale of solid and liquid foodstuffs filled in PET packaging in Europe, provided that a significant volume of their products are sold in PET containers
- The commercial reclaim of post-consumer PET containers in Europe, the product of which is sold as flakes or pellets
- The sales of equipment used in the value chain from PET manufacture to production of recycle
- Other activities with prevailing interest in PET

Membership will have to be approved by the Board of Directors. The Board will act on each application for membership within ninety days following receipt of the application.

Membership benefits

Members have

- the opportunity to participate in setting the objectives of the Petcore Europe committees and to be members of specific Technical Working Teams.
- the opportunity to influence EU and national regulatory bodies.
- access to a wide range of information on PET.
- exclusive access to the Petcore Europe Document Library.
- visibility and sustainable credibility of their companies.

Membership organisation

The new Petcore Europe model provides a lower membership fee and a mechanism to ensure that projects are selected and resourced by the members on an individual basis.

There are two classes of membership:

- Association Members
- Individual Company Members

Voting rights for Petcore Europe organisational issues are votes per association member in proportion to the annual fee paid and one vote per individual company member. A single fee payment will be due in January each year.

Any member may withdraw from the association by giving written notice of such intention to the President or Executive Director at least six months before the effective date of such withdrawal.
